DAIRY FUTURE IN SANE ADVERTISING

Expansion of Dairying Depends on Market Development.

Feed dealers throughout Wisconsin are taking advantage of the priority order issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which went into effect Sept. 1, giving priority in shipment of food, feed and fuel, according to Edward Hickey of a local grain magazine.

The Mr. Hickey said, believed that before long heavy shipments of coal will utilize shipping facilities, making it impossible to ship feed to market. He said that farmers are waiting no time in putting all available grain in transit.

"There are nearly as many cattle in Wisconsin as there are people," Mr. Hickey said. "Over two million cows are grazing in the pastures of this state, while the census shows 2,631,830 people living in Wisconsin. The dairy industry has grown to such an extent that it has become a leading industry in the state. It is the only industry that has grown beyond its present range, although because of added shipping expenses they find it hard to compete with dairy companies in other states."

William A. Foster, Elkhorn, Wis., in reviewing the dairy situation in the state, said:

"Increase consumption. The dairy industry depends upon three things. They are the development of new markets abroad, the discovery of new ways to use dairy products at home, and the development of new methods of increasing consumption at home. The first is dependent upon conditions we cannot control; the second provides only a limited increased market. Our problem is to increase the consumption of dairy products in our own town, our own county and our own state."

The best method, according to Mr. Foster, to follow for increasing the consumption of dairy products is to bring home to local communities the value of milk and dairy products, through a county milk campaign. Continuing, he said:

"The county campaign is not only beneficial from the standpoint of increasing consumption, but it also fills the larger need of showing the producers of milk the results which systematic advertising secures. There is under way in this state at the present time a movement to have each producer of milk donate the proceeds from one day's milk sale to a fund for milk advertising. It is the most important move the dairymen of Wisconsin can ever make. If there had been a county milk campaign in every county, there would be less trouble in enlisting the financial support of the dairymen, for they would have had an opportunity to see what can be accomplished by daily advertising."

Results of Campaign.

"The first intensive county milk campaign was in Walworth county. It came before us in the form of a letter in March, 1921. I learned, by inquiry, that there was being consumed in my county approximately 6,000 pounds of butter each day. I saw a milk wagon with 40 cans on it stop in front of a grocery store. The driver came out with 14 pounds of butter substituted for milk products on his route. The farmers were complaining about the price of butter but were not using their own product.

"We found that the children in the country schools were drinking less than two cups of milk per day. In May, 1921, we went to every school, every farmer and every resident in the county and told them the value of dairy products. We held 67 meetings in 8 days including the school talks. The results were as follows:

"Consumption of butter increased 21 per cent; ice cream 22 per cent; cheese 10 per cent.

"The few facts which I have brought out emphasize the possibilities of increasing the use of dairy products at home. The dairy industry is a basic one. We serve it. The influence we can have is tremendous in directing the energies of discouraged dairymen toward a practical, sane and permanent solution of their biggest problem."

Enforce Grades on Wisconsin Apples

Madison—Grades on Wisconsin apples are being enforced by the department of markets in the Sturgeon Bay district for the first time and with exceptionally satisfactory results. B. L. Jones, in charge of the division of grades and standards of the department of markets, said Thursday.

The department is maintaining an inspector in the district who is grading and certifying grades of apples shipped to commercial markets. Growers and shippers are said to be cooperating to bring about standardization.

A large commercial crop in the Door county section of Wisconsin is bringing apple growers a good return during the present season, the department of markets says.

Japanese interests supported by the government will develop the coal deposits of Saghalien, believed to be among the world's richest.

ACID PHOSPHATE, LIME, BOOM CROPS

Combination of Two Gives Best Results, According to Glasco.

Soil demonstrations with acid phosphate were carried on in Rock county this summer under the supervision of Prof. Griffith Richards, soil specialist from the college of agriculture, and County Agent R. T. Glasco.

On the farm of Edw. J. Pedowski, town of Rock, the acid phosphate demonstration gave the following results: Plot No. 1, no treatment, 23.9 bushels of oats; plot No. 2, acid phosphate applied at rate of 300 pounds per acre, 41.1 bushels.

E. H. Lankar, town of Milton farmer, had a demonstration with oats as follows: Plot No. 1, no treatment, 39.1 bushels of oats; plot No. 2, acid phosphate applied at rate of 300 pounds per acre, 41.3 bushels per acre.

On the farm of Arthur Howarth, town of Harmony, limestone and acid phosphate were applied to both plots. Plot No. 1, limestone alone at the rate of two tons per acre, 23.7 bushels of barley per acre; plot No. 2, limestone and acid phosphate, 32.2 bushels per acre.

"In most of the demonstrations carried out over the state acid phosphate has been found to give excellent results," said Mr. Glasco. "Phosphorus is one of the first elements depleted in the soil by continuous cultivating, and when it is supplied by a commercial fertilizer the crop is increased."

"In demonstrations carried on with alfalfa in Rock county, lime gave an excellent stand, but the growth was retarded on account of a deficiency of phosphorus. When phosphorus was applied to these plots, such as Theodore Wolf farm, near Elkhorn, the acid phosphate as a fertilizer in Rock county should be given more consideration. It is the cheapest one of the commercial fertilizers and is used in conjunction with lime on acid soils gives very good results."

Glasco Gives Tips on Storing Apples

It will soon be time to store apples for winter use, says County Agent R. T. Glasco. All late fall varieties should be picked when they begin to fall. The winter varieties should be left on the trees as long as possible without being frozen. The reason for this is that if they are picked too early and not stored in a cool place, they will keep the temperature of the cellar down so that the development of the fruit does not take place rapidly.

One of the most difficult questions in every section of the country is to keep a low temperature in the storage place during the early part of the fall.

Fall varieties, picked early, should be cooled off and then placed in a well ventilated storage place. The temperature of the storage place should be kept as low as possible and the atmosphere should be relatively moist.

Good apples will bring a fair price early in the winter. There will be an excellent demand later on for hand picked apples. The price on good apples is steadily advancing and the farmer may reasonably expect at least $1.50 a bushel for good apples.

Fruit, Vegetable Movement Gains

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago — The car lot movement of fruit and vegetables increased nearly 400 during the week ending Sept. 23, according to the market review of the U. S. bureau of markets.

A total of 24,385 cars, moved, compared with 18,936 the same week last year.

Potatoes showed the heaviest gain, 2,300 cars. Shipments of grapes, apples, pears, raisins, onions, celery and sweet potatoes were also heavier while most other lines showed decreased movement. Markets were stronger for apples. Potatoes and onions strengthened in eastern markets but declined in others. Onions were slightly weaker while cabbage and sweet potatoes were generally steady.

Congratulations In Order!

Let's all shake hands with ourselves! A little complacency is pardonable when we compare our well-ordered price situation with conditions abroad. The Federal Reserve Board says the general level of prices throughout the United States is lower than in any of the world's principal countries.

Mighty fine and satisfying, isn't it, to live in a country able to accomplish the seemingly impossible—to combine the highest standard of living with the lowest prices on the globe?

Patriotic sentiment aside, is there any place quite so good to live in as this progressive, prosperous country of ours?

MORE EXILES TO GO ON LONG ROAD TO COLD SIBERIA

Berlin—The long road to Siberia beaten smooth in the past by the footsteps of Russian intelligentsia is about to be worn again.

Following on the heels of Eugene Timofev's suicide the Central Committee of the Menshevik Party, which arrived in Berlin today, having left Moscow a week ago, reports that the Bolsheviks have started a systematic campaign against the intellectuals and have arrested ninety-four college and university professors, sentencing most of them to terms of exile in Siberia, where the czar's enemies once found a dwelling place.

Among those arrested is M. Lopshin of Moscow, a famous belle lettres authority who is not associated in politics, as are most professors.

M. Stalin, a member of the central Soviet defense committee of five, and one of the most powerful in the Kremlin, is reported to have explained the action thus: "We must not let unrest grow slowly. We must ripen it to a boil, then lance it."

An informer states the Bolsheviks are familiar enough with the revolution not to wish to allow the discontent of the intellectuals to permeate the working classes, since the whole revolution against the monarch fermented first among the students and intelligentsia. The intellectuals are leaving Russia as fast as possible and many are expected in Berlin during the next few days.

Russian non-Communist Socialists have challenged the Soviet Government to explain Timofev's suicide. The Berlin organization addressed the following question to the central executive committee: "Is it true that Eugene Timofev was forced to commit suicide in order to deliver himself from the role of hostage for his party?"

"Where are the remaining accused people who have disappeared since they have been sentenced, and will they be forced to follow Timofev's example?"

"What has been done by you regarding the hunger strike declared by the prisoners?"

The document ends with a statement that silence as a reply will be interpreted as inability to answer charges which are shocking the world's public opinion.

Why the teeth of a child are safe with Listerine Tooth Paste

It cleans but cannot injure tooth enamel

We have chosen exactly the right cleansing agent for Listerine Tooth Paste. It is a substance just hard enough to polish off the daily accumulations of tartar. Yet it is not hard enough to injure even the most delicate tooth enamel. You have that comfortable feeling of knowing your tooth paste is doing its work—yet doing it safely.

Watch how it whitens and brightens your teeth

Procure a tube of this delicious dentifrice from your nearest drug dealer. The price is 25c. Give it a thorough trial. Notice how your teeth respond—how that natural white gleam is restored. You'll be delighted with the results and you'll want no other dentifrice from this time on.

Listerine Tooth Paste is safe and efficient

—because it contains the correct polishing agent; removes tartar safely; can't injure the enamel;

The Facts in the Case

RECENTLY there has been some revival of the story that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) belongs to a trust, and is operated as a part of a larger organization directed by interests other than its Board of Directors.

Such stories are absolutely and un-qualifiedly false.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an independent corporation owned by 27,109 individual shareholders, many of them employees.

No individual owns as much as 10 per cent of the capital stock.

The policies of the Company are formulated, and the practices directed, by a Board consisting of nine men, all actively engaged in this business, and in no other.

Robert W. Stewart, Chairman
W. M. Burton, President
W. E. Warwick, Second Vice-President
B. Parks, Third Vice-President
E. G. Seubert, Fourth Vice-Pres., Sec. & Treas.
Allan Jackson, Fifth Vice-President
R. H. McElroy, Traffic Manager
E. J. Bullock, Director of Purchases
T. J. Thompson, General Manager—Sales

These men are striving to manage the business of this Company, so as to render the utmost of service to the people of the Middle West; to furnish steady employment to 25,000 men and women; and to render a fair return to the stockholders on the capital they have invested in the enterprise.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) neither owes, nor acknowledges, allegiance to any individual or other organization. It stands squarely on its own feet and says proudly that its trying to do a big job in a big way.

GAZETTE BIRTHDAY
RECALLS MEMORIES
TO BRO. DUTTON

Boyhood memories—recollections of days when Jansville was a small town and the Gazette was a small paper—were recalled in the latest issue of Brother Joseph Dutton, formerly of Jansville, and now at the leprosy colony at Kalaheol, Hawaii. The old times were brought back to him by the anniversary edition of the Gazette, gotten out on his 77th birthday.

Mr. Dutton's letter, written Sept. 11, follows:

"The Gazette's account of its 77th birthday brings up several familiar names—Levi K. Alden, Charles Holt, Hiram Bowen and his son Wheeler D. Daniel Wilcox. Of those you mention I recall them all."

"In the early '50s, I folded the Free Press for Joseph Baker, editor, on the upper floor of a building on the west side just at the river bank by the upper bridge. Afterwards, when not at school, was with James Sutherland in the book store, later with Noah Vowell and O. J. Donnan, the same store. The building was on the second floor and the Gazette office, was on the first floor."

"You once had a story of the Mayberry atrocity. I saw that was close in the street as the mob rushed with the rope, the body passing not many feet from where I stood. And afterwards, I used to shudder when thinking of how he raised his arms above his head trying to get hold of the rope."

Brother Dutton mentions that he is the oldest man on the island and was present when the train pulled in. Later in 1895 and 1897, when with the L. & N. Ry. Co. I often laughed about my first sight of a railway train.

"When that first train came to Jansville, my father took me to see the great event. A crowd was there. We could not get right close and I wanted to know how the wheels could stay on the rails, and must know, in the crowd father could not satisfy me so all the way home. I hammered away about how those wheels stay on the rails. At last he said, 'Wait till we get home and I'll show you.'"

"I remember that the wheels could stay on the rails, and must know, in the crowd father could not satisfy me so all the way home. I hammered away about how those wheels stay on the rails. At last he said, 'Wait till we get home and I'll show you.'"

Local Rotary Golfers Win--Yanks Enter Last Test Game

LOCAL LINKSMEN TAKE MEDAL PLAY BY SINGLE STROKE

Golfers of the Janesville Rotary club met and defeated Deloit and Madison teams on the links of the Janesville Country club Wednesday in medal handicap play.

The Janesville linksmen won the match by coming out one stroke better than Deloit and four strokes better than the Capital City.

J. L. Wilcox of Janesville had low score of 86.

Madison was represented by 25 men; Deloit by 15 and the Bower club by 17.

The Janesville Rotarians will invade Madison for a return match next Wednesday. On Oct. 11, the locals will play at Deloit.

Football Outlook at Edgerton High Bright; Fifty Out

(By Staff Correspondent.)

Edgerton—Edgerton high school, where Rollo Williams, star captain of the University of Wisconsin, got his early training, bid fair to live up to its football reputation.

With 50 boys, including those from six footers down to those in one bunches out for practice, Coach Carl Saunster and Clarence Abendroth have plenty of material with which to work. The problem facing the coaches is development of a solid line, five or six yards, requiring the use of last year's backfield is again in to go.

A visitor to the high school who hears the youngsters in knee breeches talking about practice learning that Edgerton is a football town. From the beginning of school, football is the main attraction.

Lack of sufficient football togs has handicapped the coaches.

The problem of making a real football team when boys of light weight are entering high school has been solved by the Tobacco city with the organization of lightweight teams. These boys are like they have no chance to make the first eleven but work because they know their labors will be rewarded by a place on the lightweight team for which probably two games will be scheduled this year. A tentative agreement has been made for a game with Milton Union.

Mourne comes to Edgerton Saturday to meet the team.

Benjamin every effort to be in shape to give the Green county team a doubling—one which will make up for the defeat of the Tobacco city in the last year at Monroe.

The backfield is composed of Whitford, quarterback, Spike, Jacobson and Elsing halves, and Guinness full. For the end positions there are five good candidates, Noble, Gesser, Haurst, Schmidt and Connors. Gesser was not out last year because of sickness. For the tackle positions Olson, Gunderson, Muevlin, and Jerome and Sidney Whitford are showing well. Gesser is expected to play for guard positions are Larson, Swardloff and John Curran. The lineup has not been decided. There has been a great deal of shifting men in the last week.

Carl Saunster, head coach, came here from Seattle, Wash., where for the past three years he has been assistant in coaching eleven. Clarence H. Abendroth, his assistant, was a main man to go up against when he played with Ripon college a few years ago, and has made considerable study of the platoon game.

Charges Beloit Coach Tried to Steal Player

Charges that Assistant Coach Oswood of Beloit college tried to inveigle a football player from Whitewater school to become a member of the gold squad at the Gateway city are made by Coach Agnew of the normal.

According to statements by Agnew and others over the telephone to the Gazette, Oswood was in Whitewater Tuesday night and camped on the trail of one particularly good player.

Says Oswood Ducked

"Beloit is using the same old tactics," said Agnew. "The man Oswood tried to get left Beloit of his own accord last year. I know in an indirect way that Oswood tried to get him away."

This player came to Whitewater and signed a contract to take the course here and become a teacher. We know that Beloit is in need of a player who plays the same position of the man in question.

Oswood even came onto our field,

PEP, pepper punch—and lot of it—is being developed at the Janesville high school. The boy who signed up Wednesday's cheer session caught the vision of a greater school spirit. Each learned more of his value as a part of the team when it marches upon the field to do battle against an opponent.

WHEN the eleven goes out on the gridiron it does not appear there merely for the entertainment of the spectator, though that is a portion of what happens. It throws itself into the maelstrom of twisting battles for the honor of the school. A touchdown for Janesville—a victory for Janesville—that is the song that sings deep in each warrior's heart.

WHEN the fans line up along the sides and root they do not do it merely for entertainment, though a pleasure it is. They are there for the honor of the team, for the honor of Janesville high. The boys are like the vision of a greater school spirit. Each learned more of his value as a part of the team when it marches upon the field to do battle against an opponent.

JANESVILLE should be proud to boost the army of maelstrom. They have this year. The boys are like the vision of a greater school spirit. Each learned more of his value as a part of the team when it marches upon the field to do battle against an opponent.

ANOTHER home coming day for the Blues is planned this year. The one of last year when Janesville tied over 100 points more than a 10 used strong was a great success. With the team playing at home this year when it meets Edgerton, double this number should be drawn to the field. Here's a slogan—Fifty-five Hundred and Victory Nov. 4.

Henry Pope, aged grand circuit driver, dead.

Miss Cummings and Mrs. Letts win matches in women's golf.

Beloit college men play Ripon at Rockford.

Football Thuds—Richards starts on his long forestalled plan of attack with announcement of Bar's eligibility for Wisconsin team, which scored on the scrubs with end runs by Williams and Gibson.

Freshened Yanks Open Final Series With the Red Sox

Chicago.—The New York Yankees, after a lay-off of several days, were prepared to clinch the American league championship Thursday in the first of a three game series with the Boston Red Sox.

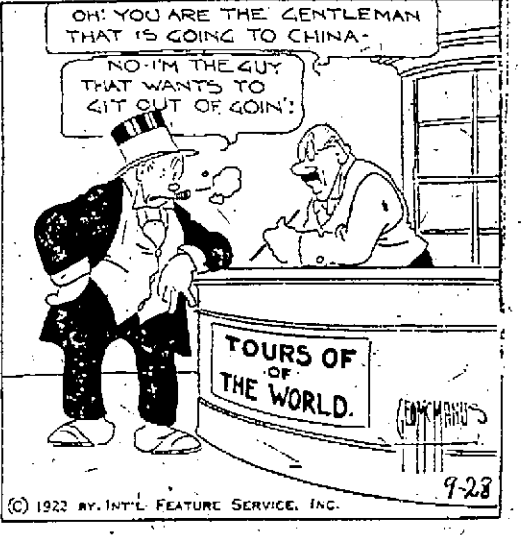

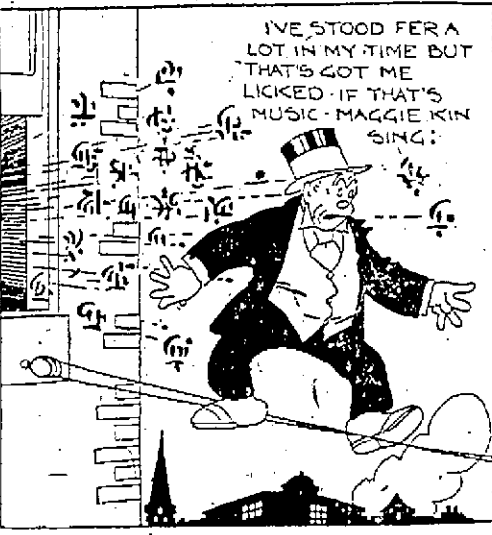

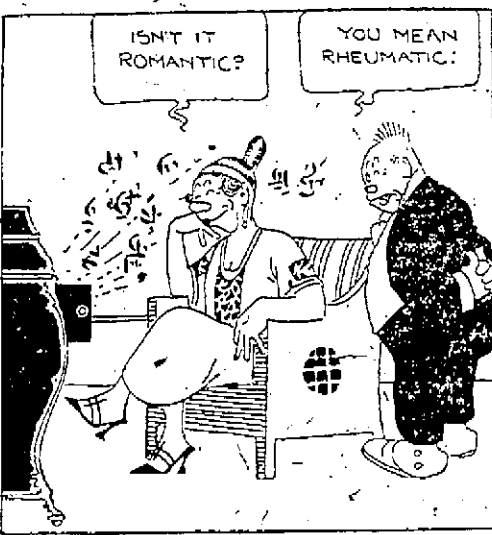

Regular champions Giants with their regular supporting Fred Johnson, San Antonio pitching recruit, dropped the first contest of a double header Wednesday, with Philadelphia, 5 to 3, but McGraw's rookies won the second, 1 to 0. McGraw, former Fordham university star, pitched the Boston Braves to a 7 to 0 shut-out over Brooklyn, while Fred Fussell, Cub recruit, outpitched Wilbur Cooper of the Pirates and Chicago won 4 to 1.

No other major league contests were played.

Badgers Shaping Fast Into Champion Quality

High School Grid Squad Exhibiting Real Fight Now

Hard scrimmaging was ordered for the Janesville high school football candidates at the fair grounds field Wednesday afternoon. The players were split into squads and nudged against each other.

The "regulars" invariably made easy gains on the men playing as opponents, tearing through wide gaps. Quarterback Knipp pulled off some pretty and long passes which were received well by Ray Leary.

Wednesday's practice was encouraging. The lads went into the fray with vim, showing some real fighting spirit. Coach Harold Warfield had the men jumping to snappy commands.

Harvard, Ill., plays here on Saturday.

Mack Has Won More World's Titles Than Any Other

New York.—Baseball's annual classic, the world series, is in the offing. The fan begins his speculations. For the sake of argument he turns back to series of other years.

What manager has had greatest success in world series?

And the answer comes—Connie Mack, christened Cornelius MacGill-Caddy—of the Philadelphia Athletics. Mack has carried three of his Philadelphia teams to world championships. Twice he met and defeated John McGraw and his Giants. In the other series Mack triumphed over Frank Chance, the great Cub leader. McGraw triumphed over Mack in 1905.

Chance won two world series with the Cubs; McGraw won two with the Boston Red Sox, and McGraw has taken two with the Giants.

1905—McGraw, New York Nationals
1906—Mack, Philadelphia Athletics
1907—Jones, Chicago Americans
1908—Chance, Chicago Nationals
1909—Jennings, Detroit Americans
1910—Mack, Philadelphia Athletics
1911—Mack, Philadelphia Athletics

Normals Against New Basket Zones

(By Gazette Correspondent.)

Whitewater—Athletic directors of the nine normal schools of Wisconsin met in conference at Madison Friday night/and Saturday. Undisputed business of last spring will be taken up.

The board of control of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association, of which Fred Holt, Edgerton, is secretary, will meet with the normal school officials. The matter of dividing the state into 16 districts for high school basketball will be discussed. It is understood the normals are adverse to redistricting, which would probably reduce the number of schools participating in the district meets at the normals.

TEACHING HEALTH, NEW SCHOOL TASK

Instructors Are Required to Emphasize Care of Self and Proper Foods.

Teacher children the "three R's"—reading, writing and arithmetic—while still the main thing for which they go to school, is now supplanted by many additional factors, and it has become necessary for teachers to have more of a general education. One of the many things taught in the grade schools now is health. While a few years ago health was a matter for individual attention and was nobody's fault but your own if your health was not good, it has now turned into a community affair. "No man can live alone," some one has said, and every person's health has some effect on others. When a school child is in poor health it lowers the community average just that much, and when the poor health takes on the proportions of a communicable disease he is an active menace to the community health.

For this reason health is now taught in the school—the place where all first impressions of importance come to a child. If habits of cleanliness are not instilled in children at their homes, it is the duty of the school to take the place of the home in this one phase.

Miss Rogers Directs Work.

Instruction of the teachers, who in turn instruct their children in matters of health, is one of the many things carried out by Miss Bertha Rogers, school supervisor, who is entering on another year's work in this city. She and other teachers of the city took courses at summer schools of prominent universities, and the results of their work are shown in the bulletin just completed at the high school and being sent to all teachers of the city.

It gives the food value of various foods, the length of time necessary for their digestion, in addition to general remarks on keeping the health of the children well, by means of their habits and by providing good working and sleeping conditions.

Many of the instructions will prove of value to parents, who while not willfully negligent of their children's health, probably are lax in establishing healthy habits and training them in ways of good health.

Two Points Emphasized.

A great campaign is being carried on to secure better health conditions in this country, the bulletin says. "Its success depends largely upon the hearty, intelligent and persistent cooperation of our teachers. Two points should be especially emphasized. First, do the very best you can to promote the welfare of your pupils under present conditions, with the equipment at your command; second, insist upon a more permanent and persistent way to secure more favorable conditions and better equipment."

Then follow instructions about the floor, how its cleanliness should be kept up, lighting, heating and ventilating the rooms and valuable suggestions as to the best methods of keeping the rooms the best in these conditions. Temperature should be kept at 65 degrees, and seats should be comfortable and of the right size to allow the children to write or read without slumping, stooping, or raising the shoulders. Proper position in writing or reading has a great deal to do with good health, affecting as it does the spinal column.

Tests of Eyes, Ears, Teeth.

Tests should be made by the teacher, or arranged by the teacher, of the children's eyes, teeth and ears. The bulletin says that 20 per cent of the children in the United States have defective eyesight, 25 per cent defective hearing. Teeth can be kept in good condition by frequent inspection and tooth cleaning drills. Three infected teeth are enough to lose a whole year's schooling for a child.

While teachers have nothing to say concerning text books, if the paper is glossy, and poor for intensive reading, she should report this to the superintendent. Teachers should be sure that all pupils can see the blackboard properly, as sometimes the reflection of light makes it shiny and unreadable.

It is up to the teacher also to see that the pupils have clean hands, nails and faces. Only a little training is needed in this line, especially with the younger children, and when once formed, the habit is not easily broken.

Children should be trained to eat wholesome food. Often mothers do not arrange the proper diet, and sometimes succotages, which come from the school would be helpful to them. No teachers in the city need worry about the water supply, as it has been found safe.

Individual Attention Sought.

Individual attention must also be given by the teacher to the pupils. Some are nervous, are susceptible to colds, while others are more character and training are more interested and need more talking to than others. Programs in the schools should be arranged so as to alternate the hard and easy subjects, and not bunch them.

The information on foods is also interesting. It is shown that fruits are much more quickly digested than meats and other heavy articles of diet. Thus while bananas require an hour and a quarter to digest; oranges, one to two hours; pears and plums the same as bananas, and all fruit about the same length of time, require a much longer period. Bacon heads the list, requiring five hours; beef or various kinds takes from three to four hours; sausage the same; chicken, one and a half hours; four to five; mutton and turkey, three to four; veal, three and a half to four; and mutton chops, four to five.

Vegetables require a period shorter longer than that for fruit, the majority of them, cooked, requiring around two, two and a half and three and a half hours. Articles requiring the least time—one hour—are beer, oranges, bread, sugar, honey, and tomatoes. Bread takes three and a half hours. Onions take from two to three hours; corn, three to four; milk requires but two.

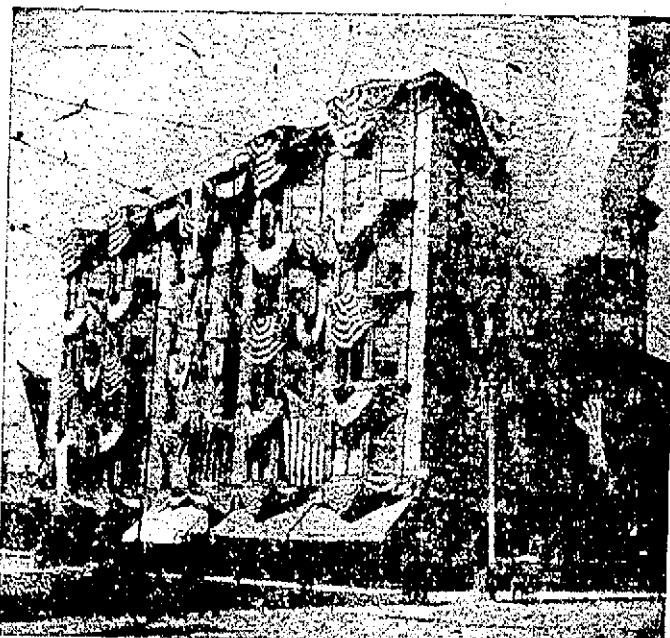

Bacon This High Food Value.

The amount of period required for digestion has little to do, however, with the food values, for some articles, mainly butter, require a long time to digest, give a great amount of food value; while fruit, which is easily digested, also gives considerable food value, although low in fat. Articles giving the most value are: 3,410; cocoanut, 3,125; olive oil, 4,089; and walnuts, 3,255. The high value in these articles comes from their proportion of fat and fruit and other articles, lower in food value per pound, but much higher in water, carbohydrates or proteins, are needed for a well balanced diet.

These articles listed in food value are: Celery, 150; buttermilk, 150; grape juice, 150; and strawberry, 186.

"The Valley Incomparable" is one name for Yosemite park. The sheer immensity of the mountains, the waterfalls and the view from the top of the falls are what you want to see. The Yosemite falls drop 1,420 feet. Nowhere else this information on Yosemite falls is there such a water spectacle as is shown here by the Gazette travel bureau.

Community Comment

FLORENCE SLOW HYOE, Editor.

This department of the Janesville Daily Gazette is published in the interest of all Community work in Southern Wisconsin.

When a child is dangerously ill few parents fail to call in medical aid, regardless of financial or other considerations. No sacrifice is too great to save the precious life when it appears that death is actually hovering over the child.

In communities instances serious illness could be prevented by giving attention to every detail pertaining to child care and nutrition and by the early correction of such defects as stunted growth, enlarged tonsils, adenoid growths and decayed teeth. Such defects lessen the child's powers of resistance to disease, and although he may escape serious illness, his future health and strength will invariably be undermined. Thousands of men and women are suffering from chronic ailments which could have been prevented by the correction of minor physical defects in childhood. How many people do you know that are entirely free from physical ailments of one kind or another?

Good health is the first right of every child, and by making this the employment of a county nurse, many of the laws of Wisconsin are helping to place good health within the reach of all school children.

Work of County Nurse.

The county nurse may be called upon to do many different things, but her most important task is inspection of pupils in rural schools. This inspection accomplishes very little, however, unless the parents of the children examined give heed to the reports brought home following the visit of the nurse.

Miss Anna Lutscher, Rock county nurse, is now making second or third visits to rural schools and is checking up on extent to which parents have taken steps to have physical defects, reported at the time of previous visits, corrected. The community editor accompanied Miss Lutscher to several schools during the past two weeks and was somewhat surprised to learn that in many instances defects such as bad tonsils, adenoids, decayed teeth and defective eyesight, reported to parents a year or more ago, have not received the medical attention the seriousness of such conditions demand.

Rural Children Should be Healthy.

Rural children should be the most healthy children in the world, but investigations of the U. S. Children's bureau have shown that this is not the prevailing condition. Too often the pure air so abundant in the country and which should be breathed night and day by growing children, is carefully excluded from the farm home, especially in cold weather. In far too many instances farm children are not taught to think the fresh milk produced by their father's cows. Some farm boys are more deeply concerned with physical perfection of their cows and pigs, than that everything possible shall be done to make the off spring.

Health Rules.

The following "rules for the health game" are being promulgated by school nurses throughout the state of Wisconsin.

1. A full bath more than once a week.

2. Brushing the teeth at least once every day.

3. Sleeping long hours with windows open.

4. Drinking as much milk as possible, but no tea or coffee.

5. Eating some vegetables or fruit every day.

6. Drinking at least four glasses of water a day.

7. Playing part of every day out of doors.

8. A bowel movement every morning.

9. A full bath more than once a week.

10. Brushing the teeth at least once every day.

11. Sleeping long hours with windows open.

12. Drinking as much milk as possible, but no tea or coffee.

13. Eating some vegetables or fruit every day.

14. Drinking at least four glasses of water a day.

15. Playing part of every day out of doors.

16. A bowel movement every morning.

MUSIC ACTIVITIES MANY IN SCHOOLS

Glee Club Work, Operetta, State Contest Entrance, Are Planned.

No radical changes in the teaching of music to high school pupils will be made, at least not until the new high school is entered, says Miss W. E. Hanson, director of music for the city schools. In this she is concurring with Supt. F. O. Holt, Prin. W. V. Brown and others in the old building this last summer in the making of the change in administration and the change in teaching methods the past few years.

Grade supervision in music, however, is being done according to the latest ideas of educational experts and children now attending grade schools have the latest and best instruction in music.

Miss Hanson spent the summer in California, where she says she found the schools much advanced in music training over those of the middle west. At the opening of school she organized her work, and now, with school in its fourth week, has all of last year's organizations well started and pupils again interested in music.

Plan for Operetta.

"One of the main projects in music here for this year will be an operetta," said Miss Hanson, "which will be given as soon as the new high school is entered. It will be 'The Windmills of Holland' and will have in it all members of both the boys' and the girls' glee clubs. Altogether there will be 75 people in it. Music has arrived and practice will probably be commenced next week. So far, three meetings of the two clubs have been held, the regular music work being taken up.

Instrumental classes in the schools are being started this week. They consist of those in violin and cornet, Mrs. Eber Arthur and Miss Doris Randolph are to teach violin. Prof. W. T. Thiele, cornet. As this instruction was carried on last year, it is now possible to have both beginners and advanced classes. There is a great deal of interest evidenced.

"Another new thing this year will be the organization of the faculty chorus," said Miss Hanson. "Mrs. Lyman Jackson is to have charge of it. There will be no group singing in high school, as the large number of pupils prohibits it. The lack of space is also a factor, and probably after the new high school is entered, we will be able to have some singing, which will be more like community singing than any instruction.

Sent Team to Milwaukee.

"Music instruction in the grades this year will consist of more of an emphasis on training for music appreciation than before. Rhythmic interpretation will also be stressed, especially in the lower grades. One of the big projects will be the sending of some pupils to the teachers' convention at Milwaukee to take part in a state music contest there. Work for this has been started.

"In each sixth grade, there will be contests to select one or two of the best singers. These two will compete with others from the different schools, and in that way six selected to represent the city. These in turn, will go to Milwaukee during the teachers' convention, around the ninth of November, and compete with students from other cities.

"The contest will consist of singing eight songs and going through a music memory course. In the memory contest, the name of the selection, the name of the composer and his nationality, must be named. Sight reading is also included. Contests in the various schools will be held next week.

"No plans have yet been made for any general music memory contests in the schools, and if any are given, they will occur in the spring."

NO FIGURES ARE OUT ON WEALTH OF CONGRESSMEN

This list of professions, greatly augmented in recent years, may be said to include, besides the ministry, medicine, legal, banking, architect, and an endless number of other professions, according to the list of J. Haskin of the Gazette Information Bureau at Washington, D. C., answering a question asked by a Gazette reader.

The same inquiry was informed by Mr. Haskin that La Follette opposed the 15th amendment.

One reader inquired about the wealth of the various senators. "There are no published statistics available showing the wealth of the members of Congress," said Mr. Haskin. It is a well-known fact that Senator Newberry is a very wealthy man, being a partner in a large manufacturing business. Senator La Follette is a lawyer and publisher of La Follette's magazine. He is not considered wealthy. Senator Lenoir is a lawyer by profession. He has passed most of his time in public life. "Senator Frelinghuysen is an insurance underwriter and president of the state department of agriculture of New Jersey. Senator Watson, Georgia, made a statement in Congress that he was entirely dependent upon his salary."

Fruit of the mountain ash, Mr. Haskin informed a reader, is of no value. In addition to answering questions, Mr. Haskin sends out many bulletins and booklets of value. Last week the list was made up of two on modern homes; one on grapes, laundry, baking and meat; and four on children's health. Ten miscellaneous bulletins were also issued.

Gazette readers may subscribe to this valuable service free of charge. A stamped, self-addressed envelope is required, and a coupon, found on the editorial page of the Gazette, and a stamp is all that is necessary to secure one of the bulletins.

Dry Officers Nab Two and Liqueur

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Milwaukee—Two men were arrested and a high-priced roadster, five cases of imitation whiskey and 50 gallons of grain alcohol seized when federal prohibition agents broke up what is said by federal officers to have been an extensive rum running business between Chicago and points in Wisconsin. The men are Carl Silver and Louis Markel, both of Chicago. They were arrested before Harry L. Kellogg, U. S. commissioner, on the charge of transporting and possessing liquor. The case was continued to Saturday and bail fixed at $1,500.
